

Year Eleven Oil Painting with Sarah Baker VCE Art

The continuation of the YR 11 oil painting main lesson was then a study in primary colours. Each student mixed up a palette of five tones of red, blue and yellow in which to depict their still life set up. I did my best to encourage the appreciation of the humble capsicum - some students putting it at the top of the shopping list - such a fun thing to paint! No offence to the lemons of course ...
